Number Yard Burned.
The fine lumber yard at Farmington of the Durango Planing Mill & Lumber Co. was burned on Wednesday night, entailing a loss of over $20,000. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin. This company is one of the most enterprising in San Juan county and many customers and friends will extend sympathy. The cannery fire and this one seem to point toward a "firebug" who infests Farmington.

Stung.

Our Steamed contemporary says it is stung because of the good piece of advertising that came our way recently.

Well, who would't be stung? Successful advertisers generally know where to place their advertising. And as usual, when a wide-awake county journal scoops a good bit of advertising, little quirks, always feel stung.

The merchants of the town of Aztec know the situation, that is most of them do, much better than the ramrod of the exclusive home print journal. It is barely possible for a paper with a grinch, to overdo itself when it tries to down every other paper in the county.

Some men are competent to broaden out, while others are only capable of grasping immediate surroundings. It is unfair to expect big swins from little fishes.

Environment means much to many people. Our great fear is that continuing one's self exclusively to home print will serve to contract expansion too severely, and breed a spirit of selfishness not usual, thus blighting a great career in journalism. We are really sorry for one who gets a bad sting.

We guarantee everything at the White Front.

Don't Be Deceived.

It seems like the height of foolishness for a newspaper editor to undertake to fool his readers into the belief that he is running on an exclusive cash basis during these times. Possibly he may mislead an occasional subscriber, but others who are connected with newspaper work know much better than this. There are only a very few papers published in the country that are read only by paid in advance subscribers. The ordinary editor has faith in his readers' honesty, and as a rule that faith is not misleading.

When an editor tells you that he has purged his list down to paid in advance subscribers you can guess at his list by choosing what would be a usual list and dividing by about six. The advertiser who wants to find the best medium will always pay by the editor of a county paper who purges his list to paid in advance subscriptions. Advertisers want their ads to be read by the people. The average merchant knows by his own experience something of the amount of the business of the country that is done on the credit system. It is rather hard to credit the successful country merchant. He usually knows his own affairs and among other things knows where to place his advertisement.

Rev. James A. Armstrong of Alamosa, N. M., is expected to visit this county during the month of Nov. and assist Rev. Minton in series of meetings at Aztec, Flora Vista, Riverside and Bloomfield. Meetings will probably begin at Riverside on or before first Sabbath in Nov. Rev. Armstrong is a strong preacher and the singer.

Even Exchange No Robbery.

C. W. Tunnel and R. E. Townsend of Cline, Colo. traded wives last week and came down to Aztec to have Judge Current fix up the bills of sale. The fact that all parties came down together in an old fashioned lumber wagon, indicates that all parties concerned in the transaction were satisfied with the exchange, which having been evenly balanced shows no evidence of robbery. County Clerk Wagner legalized the deal by issuing the proper license, divorces having already been allowed by the court of proper jurisdiction.

We are very glad to say that Ted Waring, who numbers more friends than any person in this city, has returned from Durango greatly benefited in health.
